EX-GOVERNOR STUART TOUTED FOR U.S. SENATORSHIP

FORMER GOVERNOR OF PENNSYLVANIA MENTIONED IN MANY CIRCLES TODAY

Congressman Vare Of Philadelphia In The Race
But Is Given A Setback By Governor Sproul,
Who Declares No Man Will Be Allowed To Become Dictator Of The State.

NAME OF APPOINTEE IS STILL A SECRET

Pittsburgh, Pa., Jan. 6.—Barring an eleventh hour change of mind, the Governor will appoint ex-Governor Edwin S. Stuart as United States Senator to succeed the late Boise Penrose, it was learned on reliable authority today. The appointment of ex-Governor Stuart will be favorable to Senator William E. Crow, who is a patient at the Mersey Hospital here, it was also reported here. The Governor is expected here today to confer with Senator Crow and will probably not announce his appointment until Monday. The Announcement is expected to be made from the capitol.

Vare A Candidate

Philadelphia, Jan. 6.—State Senator Edwin H. Vare last night made the positive statement that his brother, Congressman William H. Vare, is a candidate for the senatorial seat left vacant by the death of Boise Penrose, and that he will enter the May primaries against either Gov. Sproul or any other man he may name. This position of the Vares make certain a bitter fight, with no one willing to predict what will happen.

Sproul Against One Man Rule

Governor Sproul refused to admit a central leadership in the person of Senator Edwin H. Vare.

The story was told that Senator Vare went to the Governor and demanded that he appoint Representative William S. Vare to the Senate. It was said the Governor flatly and forcibly refused to do so.

When the Governor was asked what he had to say regarding his conference with Senator Vare, he replied tersely: "Nothing."

"I have a man in mind for the place," said the Governor, "but my thoughts have not been carefully worked out. I will say that no one will be disappointed when I name him. He will be of a type to appeal to the whole State."

Mr. Sproul was asked what he thought of the statement made public by Mayor Magee of Pittsburgh, in which Mr. Magee virtually set up Senator Edwin H. Vare as the Republican leader of Pennsylvania.

"I think," said he, "that the Mayor expressed himself very soundly."

The Governor amplified that statement with the assertion that he did not believe Mayor Magee had any thought of conferring upon Senator Vare a dictatorship in Pennsylvania politics.

"There will be no centralization of leadership," he said. "I think I expressed that before when I said that Penrose was the last of his race. The fact is, there are quite a few people who will sit in on the party councils."

EXPECT GREAT WORK FROM NEW RULER OF JAPANESE

By CLARENCE DUBOSE

(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Tokyo, (By Mail).—Japan is expecting big things of Hirohito, acting Emperor of Dai Nippon.

Hirohito is extremely popular among all classes throughout Japan. In addition to the veneration of the Emperor and the Imperial family, which is an ingrained and fundamental feature of the Japanese code, Hirohito is the recipient of something more, something no other ruler of Japan has ever had. It is a sort of personal touch. It combines fondness and admiration for a likable individual, with religious and patriotic duty to a ruler they regard as divinely descended.

If the average Japanese were to put the idea into American terms, it would be about like this: "We're all for Hirohito, simply because he's a good scut and snappy and up to date and on his 'tip-toes' all the time. Our ancient reverence is unchanged, you understand, but we feel that here's a pal as well as an Imperial ruler descended from the Gods."

The attitude is something like that of a proud family at a college commencement watching the favorite son who has corralled all the honors of his class. "Gosh! there's no telling what such a smart boy can do," the family opines.

Of course there's a distinct conflict between this popular Japanese hopefulness of Hirohito's "doing things" and the circumventions of the Japanese plan which divorces politics and government completely from the Emperor's jurisdiction. It isn't probable that the mass of the people have that the thing out at all and concluded that they want the system changed or that they do not want it changed. They don't know just what they desire or expect Hirohito to do. They just have a liking for him from which is born a sort of blind hunch: that when he takes hold, he is going to "put things over."

He may. The modernizing, liberalizing, progressive influences and effects of his European tour coupled with his own personal penchant for advancement may mean the modification of traditions and the beginning of a new order of things. Or the traditions may be too strong, after all. Anyhow they have all got their eyes on Hirohito, acting Emperor and a likable lad.

SOLDIER BONUS IS ONE OF ITEMS TO BE PUT THRU CONGRESS

Washington, D. C., Jan. 6.—A corps of Congressional leaders will gather at the White House within the next few days to formulate legislation under President Harding's guidance. This was agreed upon by a group of leaders including Senators Lodge, Watson and others.

President Harding agreed that the soldier bonus bill should be passed. He again asked prompt action on the foreign debt refunding bill. President Harding senses party danger in the Agricultural Bloc and this question is expected to come up at the conference.

EX-PREMIER OKUMA OF JAPAN IS DEAD

Tokio, Japan, Jan. 6.—Viscount Shigenobu Okuma, former Premier of Japan died here today. The Viscount Okuma, who was Prime Minister and Minister of Foreign Affairs during the war was yesterday reported to be suffering from some minor ailment.

NEW NAVAL TREATY READY

Washington, D. C., Jan. 6.—The new naval treaty binding the five great sea powers to a limitation of naval armament and expressing the hope that the small nations will live up to its spirit was virtually completed today. The document probably will be given to the world at a plenary session of the conference next week.

JEALOUSY THOUGHT RESPONSIBLE FOR BEATING OF WIFE

James Vigliotte, who lives on top of Cemetery Hill was arrested last evening by Chief of Police Hitt on a warrant issued by Squire Joseph John on complaint of Mrs. Mary Vigliotte. "The green eyed monster" appears to be getting the upper hand in the Vigliotte household, according to the information made. Last evening the husband started in to give his wife a beating. He tore nearly all the clothes from her body and drove her out into the street half clad.

Neighbors called Chief of Police Hitt who found the scantily clad woman crying near the entrance to Hillcrest Cemetery and brought her down to Squire John's office where she swore out a warrant for her husband's arrest on a charge of assault and battery.

Vigliotte was given a hearing before Squire John at 11 o'clock this morning and after hearing the injured wife's story the Squire held him for Court.

The couple have four children and the wife, who was married at 13 and looks to be thirty years younger than her husband, says that Vigliotte does not half provide for his family yet when held for court put up $500 cash bail, having that amount of money and more on deposit in one of the local banks.

The neighbors are all in sympathy with the injured wife, whose blackened eye was mute evidence of the blows of the husband, who is said to be insanely jealous of the woman. It was alleged at the hearing recently seized her and dragged her hair off in the hope that he might thus, disfigure her and keep her from going out of the house.

When leaving the Squire's office Vigliotte said he would make no more trouble in the future, and the officers propose to see that he does not.

DUBOIS TOSSERS VISIT CLEARFIELD FOR GAME TONIGHT

This evening Coach Crane's basketball squad will open the N. W. P. I. A. league by meeting the floor men from DuBois. This game promises to be more than an ordinary contest as both teams will play hardest games they are capable of and never give in until the final whistle.

DuBois Team All Veterans—DuBois High School will be represented in the league this season by the same players that tossed baskets for the black and white players in 1921.

Coach Baker of DuBois has been working his men extra periods the past few days in order to present his strongest lineup against the Red and Black. The County Metropolis five is captained by Jim Faloan who is playing his third year as a varsity forward. Montgomery will hold down the pivot post, while the other positions will be taken care of by Swisher, captain last season, Benson, Johnson and Rokoski. These men are playing their second year and can fill either forward or guard positions.

The DuBois basketballers are eager to put one over on C. H. S. and avenge last season's setbacks, two in number that Clearfield's team handed this same DuBois quintet, then first year players.

Coach Crane's flock of second string men have been making things hot for the varsity squad this week, scoring more points in most of the scrimmages than the regulars. If the scrubs continue their brilliant work, Coach Crane will probably raise several of them into the regular team.

Tonight the lineup will start with Captain Martin and John Smith at forward, Knapp at Center and Howe and Norris at guard.

Strong Fives—This Season Pre-season dope as to picking a league winner is out of the question, as old man dope has been wantonly slashed in most sporting events of the past few years. However, it is safe to say that Punxsutawney, Brookville and the winner of this clash here tonight

CURWENSVILLE IS REJOICING OVER HANDSOME GIFT

Pee Wee's Nest Picnic
Grounds And Athletic
Field Given To Boro
By Generous Citizen.

TO BE IMPROVED

The citizens of our neighboring town of Curwensville are greatly rejoicing over a Christmas gift which was quietly and unostentatiously slipped into the municipal lap by two of that town's most public spirited citizens, Mr. Hugh M. Irvin and his sister, Miss Elizabeth G. Irvin.

This gift, the most magnificent Christmas gift heard of in this section, consists of a deed in fee simple to the town of Curwensville for the Pee Wee's Nest Park, the town's breathing space and recreation ground together with a magnificent athletic field immediately adjoining the park.

Pee Wee's Nest Park was cleared up and used for a picnic grounds for the people of the community many years ago by the late Edward A. Irvin, father of the property and each year since that time it has grown in popularity. It is a most delightful spot located along the banks of the Susquehanna River, extending down along the same a distance of 2000 feet from the Pee Wee's Nest Bridge. It is heavily timbered and is regarded as one of the most beautiful spots throughout the beautiful West Branch Valley. It has been the scene of many public gatherings the last twenty years and thousands of people throughout this section of the state have enjoyed its cooling shade and delightful advantages.

The athletic field which will now be made a part of "Irvin Park" is a valuable piece of ground, admirably adapted for the purpose, between 600 and 700 feet square. It will be fitted up for athletics and outdoor sports of all kinds. This athletic field is located along the State road and is especially easy of access by reason thereof.

The magnificent gift is free of all restrictions, except that it be used for a public recreation and pleasure park.

The borough Council of Curwensville, in accepting the gift on behalf of the people, promise to make "Irvin Park" one of the finest recreation grounds in Central Pennsylvania.

NEWEST INDUSTRY IS WHOLESALE OF COFFEE AND TEA

The newest industry to locate in Clearfield is a coffee roasting establishment, the machinery for which is being set up in a building in the rear of the Workman's bakery on Nichols Street.

This business will be started here by E. W. Farrington of Philadelphia, a man experienced in the coffee business. He expects to wholesale his output to the grocers and other retailers throughout Clearfield County.

The new concern will be equipped with a coffee roasting machine of a 5000 pound per day capacity. Just as soon as the plant is established a stock of tea and spices will be added, it also being the intention of Mr. Farrington and those associated with him to begin the wholesaling of grocery staples throughout this region.

MUTUAL SAFETY

Los Angeles, Cal., Jan. 6.—The wedding of John R. Cudahy and Miss Louise C. Francis, which was to have taken place here today and which would have united two prominent and wealthy families, was halted a few steps from the altar.

DUBOIS CHILD IS SMOTHERED WHEN HOUSE BURNS

Firemen Unable To Get Into Room Where Two Year Old Tot Lay But Father Dashed In.

FIRE IS A MYSTERY

Trapped in a burning building yesterday morning and suffocated to death was the fate of little two year old Margaret Burns, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Burns, who lived at the rear of the old DuBois Hotel barn on the East Side.

The girl was upstairs playing while the mother was engaged with the household duties downstairs. The mother stated that she called frequently to her little one upstairs and that each time she replied saying she was playing. The last time she called no reply was received and she went upstairs to see what was the trouble. She stated that when she opened the door dense clouds of smoke poured out. It was impossible for her to penetrate the room and she ran screaming reached the scene and an alarm of fire was turned in bringing out the firemen but it was impossible to penetrate the room in which the child was. The piteous appeals of the mother could not be answered for some little time, Mr. Burns who works on the section, arrived shortly after the work of subduing the flames started. When he learned that his young daughter was in the flames he plunged into the building regardless of his own safety. He succeeded in reaching the room in which the child was, picked up the body and carried it to a window where it was taken by firemen. But life was extinct, the body being badly burned. It is believed, however, that the child smothered before the flames reached her.

The Burns family were former residents of the Fourth Ward of Clearfield, Mrs. E. H. Flegal, of 711 Dorey street, is a sister of Mr. Burns.

Skyscrapers Amazed Chris. "Begory!" said an Irishman who was watching another go through some exercises, "ye kape yer mouth as wide open as if ye were Columbus the first time he saw New York."

ROTARIANS IMPRESSED WITH PROOF THAT "BARNUM WAS RIGHT" AND NOW A LYNCHING BEE IS TO BE EXPECTED

The local Rotary Club meeting at the Hotel Jordan last evening was enjoyed by some thirty five Rotarians and their guests. President Ward O. Wilson occupied the position of authority and carried the meeting along in fine shape. After "executing" a number of the songs in Jim Kerr's new song book, with Editor G. A. Stewart "pinch hitting" for Jim, the Rotes fell to and devoured one of mine, Host Jordan's special turkey dinners.

At the conclusion of the feed President Wilson called for reports from the different committees and many business propositions before the club were discussed and disposed of.

Prof. H. Clark Thayer delivered a fine two minutes talk on "Rotary Advantages" after which the members were called upon to introduce their guests of the evening. The guests present were "Russ" Howard of the DuBois club; Dr. S. J. Waterworth, Dr. S. S. Davis, L. T. Gaulin and T. L. O'Donnell.

The speaker of the evening was Rotarian Dr. John Weaver Gordon, whose subject was "Medicine: Past, Present and Future." and the speaker handled the same in a highly entertaining manner. His description of some of the situations which confront the present day man of medicine made a hit with his auditors

YOUNG LADY HAD NO TROUBLE IN FORGING CHECKS

Until Victims Chased
Her To DuBois Where
She Was Arrested Last Night—Brought Here.

HOME NEAR HERE

A stylish looking well tailored blonde young lady paid Clearfield a visit yesterday and departed on the evening DuBois train with her pockets lined with greenbacks obligingly produced by Clearfielders at her command, or rather on the presentation of three different checks bearing the name of A. B. Owens, a Pike township farmer.

The young lady blew into town on the morning train and visited several of our stores. At Leitinger Brothers she asked for a couple of blank checks, stating she desired to make some purchases but had left her check book at home. She was given a couple of County National checks, and sitting down at a desk proceeded to fill same out. She made no purchases at Leitinger's but going down to the Workman's store on Third street she asked to have a check for $24.50 cashed. Manager Mattson in giving the check the once over noted that it was drawn to and endorsed by Lillian Dush while the name of A. B. Owens appeared as drawer of the check. Mattson called the bank on the phone and while asking concerning the financial standing of the purported drawer of the check noticed that the writing on same was all done by the same hand. He then informed the young lady who appeared very much ill at ease, that she would have to have somebody identify her before he could cash the check. The young woman then took her check and left the store, saying she was in a hurry to catch the Pennsylvania train for Curwensville.

Instead of leaving town the woman went down Third street to Locust and then to Flegal's store where the check was cashed by John Flegal, who knows Mr. Owens. She later went into Lytle Bros. store where she unloaded a check for $15.50.

The lady later returned to Flegal's store and presented another check

DOUGHERTY WANTS CO-OPERATION ON DRY ENFORCEMENT

Harrisburg, Pa., Jan. 6.—The suggestion of Attorney General Dougherty that a conference including the Attorney General and all District Attorneys of the State be called in the near future in order to obtain more rigid enforcement of the prohibition laws was welcomed by state officials here today. Attorney General Alter wrote to Dougherty and said he would be very glad to comply and suggested that Dougherty might arrange to attend in person.

WEEKLY NEWSPAPER WILL BE ISSUED BY THE RED CROSS BEGINNING TODAY

Washington, Jan. 6.—The first issue of the Red Cross Courier, a new weekly newspaper of national circulation established by the American Red Cross to take the place of its publications published in various parts of the country, made its appearance here today. Among the "charter subscribers" is President Harding, who writes in a letter predated in fac simile on the cover page, as follows: "To the Editor of the Red Cross Courier: "I am enclosing one dollar in payment of subscription to The Red Cross Courier for the year 1922. To be sent to me here at The White House. The announcement of plans to establish a national Red Cross newspaper on a subscription basis has aroused my very deep interest and I wish to be among those who make up the charter roll of readers. "A Red Cross newspaper certainly has its place in the journalistic field, for it will specialize on information that it is exceedingly important to have put before the country in a comprehensive manner; and it will carry a continuous message that is particularly pertinent to the spirit of the time and helpful to the service which peoples are seeking to render today more than ever before, to each other and for the welfare of the world. "My heartiest good wishes for The Red Cross Courier and the success of its mission."

ODDS AND ENDS AND THINGS

By "Skinney"

Curwensville is to be congratulated upon the intense loyalty to the "old home town" of her people—rich and poor, great or near great. The magnificent Christmas gift of the "Pee Wee's Nest" picnic grounds and the athletic field adjoining by Hugh M. Irwin and his sister, Miss Elizabeth G. Irwin, is indeed something that Curwensville people may be mightily proud of. The Irwin family is one of the pioneer families closely identified with the growth and development of the town and surrounding community. They have been leaders in the social and industrial life of the town, their illustrious sons and daughters have brought honor and prominence to Curwensville, while the entire family through every generation from the first Irwin to locate where this prosperous town now stands down to the present public spirited subjects, have fostered and assisted to the limit every movement for the upbuilding of the town and the betterment of its people.

"Irvin Park" and the public spirit which made possible such a desirable pleasure grounds for the people of Curwensville is the result of a typical Irwin action and will ever remain a fitting monument and testimonial to the honored family name.

A noted insurance actuary, who ought to know what he's talking about because he is getting paid for it, says he believes men and women are going to live to be 300 years old. He says one old fellow did live to be 335 years old, over in Switzerland. He says that when he was a boy everybody laughed at Darius Green and the thought of a man flying but it's a fact now lets not laugh at the idea of a man living to be 300 years old. Then again, who on earth wants to live to be 300 years old. Although they do say that old people are the most delightful people in the world—when their hearts and their souls are young.

In days of old
When knights were bold
Great men there were, and daring;
They thought far more
Of deeds of war
Than what the dames were wearing.
But in this age
It's all the rage
For men to come a flocking
Whenever they see
A wee wee knee
Without a bit of stocking.

A New English married woman had a little difficulty with her husband the other day and when she met the "old man" at the village postoffice he proceeded to bawl the lady out and humiliate her in public. He succeeded in making the wife of his bosom mad. In fact she got so mad that she went out and gave the village strong man one hundred dollars to seek out the husband and give him the "licking" of his life. The strong man was a willing worker and administered such a licking that hubby had the wife arrested for attempted murder. The woman admits the $100 was well spent.

Mrs. Jessie Seaman is in the work house at Cleveland, Ohio, charged with having no less than eight husbands, none of whom she troubled herself to divorce. She married No. 8 in October, 1920, but has not tried it since. In speaking of her experience she declared:

"I am through. I've got so that I doubt if there is a good husband anywhere. Of course I haven't tried them all, but I did the best I could to find an ideal mate.

"Of course, one's having so many husbands has its drawbacks. To

DO IT NOW!

He was going to be all that a mortal should be—Tomorrow.
No one should be kinder or braver than he—Tomorrow.
A friend who was troubled and weary he knew,
On him he would call and see what he could do—Tomorrow.
Each morning he stacked up the letters he'd write—Tomorrow.
And thought of the folks he'd fill with delight—Tomorrow.
It was too bad indeed, he was busy today.
And hadn't a minute to stop on his way;
More time he'd have to give others, he'd say—Tomorrow.
The greatest of workers this man would have been—Tomorrow.
The world would have known him, had he ever seen—Tomorrow.
But the fact is, he died and he faded from view,
And all that he left when living was through.
Was a mountain of things he intended to do—Tomorrow.

YOUR BOOK

Some person decided to mail a book to some other person yesterday. They even went so far as to wrap it up and drop it in the mail box at the postoffice. Of course $150,000 Bill Hays is trying to facilitate the movement of all mail matter these days but even Bill's local hirings are unable to send this book along for the very good reason that the would be sender not only failed to put a stamp on it, but he also failed to address the darn thing. The "stupid" one surely was a woman, and if she will call and furnish the address and the postage the book will be sent where she desires it to go.

The prophesy coming from well informed quarters today that Ex-Governor Edwin S. Stuart is to be appointed to the U. S. Senate by Governor Sprout to take the Penrose seat, if it comes true will meet with general approval. Governor Stuart is one of the few men who occupied the gubernatorial chair at Harrisburg to come through with no blemish and his name creates favorable comment wherever it is mentioned. Around Clearfield County, since the death of Senator Penrose, he has been mentioned more than any other man, and many times with fear that he would not be given consideration.

Should Governor Stuart be appointed it is not likely that he would aspire to the regular place in the May primary as he is getting pretty well along in the age column, and while he is fully qualified to take the seat, those who prefer to see a little political scrap over the vacant chair will not be disappointed.

Many believe that the present situation in Pennsylvania will breed discord among the leaders and result in a split which will result in independent candidates for the governorship and also for the senate. While this is a probability it is not at all likely as the political leaders fully appreciate that a fight along these lines would be party suicide with nobody gaining any advantage. The various underleaders will all aspire to leadership but they realize that when their greatest strength is shown, unless it is dominating they must go back to the ranks.

There is no comparison to the split of '12. First a great independent leader is not available, and last but not least, only leadership is involved, not any great principle of government such as brought about the organization of the Progressive Party. There will be flurries but no storm.

WOODLOT NEWS AND VIEWS

Some still say that there is no money in growing timber. Let them think this over. It isn't a wonderfully good record, but the only care spent on it was protecting it from fire. Mr. J. K. Bird, Dushore, Sullivan county, Pa., cut a crop of wheat from a piece of hill land in 1862. The land was then pastured, but gradually white pine seeded in sufficiently to make an open stand. During the winter of 1919-20, Mr. Bird, now a very old man, had the timber cut. No record was kept of what was taken off the area, but District Forester A. F. Snyder and the writer concluded that there must have been not less than 10,000 board feet per acre, and that it was worth at least $10.00 per thousand feet as it stood.

The results of the 1920 Census are now available. The following summary shows the importance of the farm woodlot on the farms of the State:

Land in farms 17,657,513 Acres
Woodland on farms 4,043,902 Acres
Idle land on farms 1,765,892 Acres
Some of this land should be devoted to other crops than timber, but for a large per cent of it, the best crop is trees.

Primitive man had three needs: food, fuel, shelter. Civilized man has greatly increased this list, but he hasn't been able to get away from these three, and no one of the three is really possible without the forest and its products. A strong statement? Yes, but just about true, isn't it?

Mr. J. K. Alexander, Julian, Centre county, made one of the most successful plantings of the year. He set out 500 red pine and 1,700 white pine, on a hill with a south and southeast exposure and on thin, stony, DeKalb soil. 90 per cent of the white pine grew, and 99 per cent of the red pine. A number of the latter made from 5 to 9 inches growth.

The farmers of the country need to check the cords of wood or foot of timber which their woodlots are growing just as they would check the bushels of wheat which their fields are producing, and then improve the yields of their woodlots with the same intelligence and care that they apply to other crops, whatever the character of the land makes a permanent woodlot desirable. This is a statement by U. S. Forester W. B. Greenley, in "Wood for the Nation," Separate No. 835 of the U. S. Department of Agriculture. The pamphlet is well worth sending for: those who get it will read it.

Have you ordered your forest trees for planting next Spring?

Have you marked in advance of cutting the trees you intend making into wood this winter?

Uses of "Atomized" Coal.

"Atomized" coal—different from merely "powdered" coal because very minutely divided—is a new product that is finding important uses. It is used for making a high-grade paint and also a substitute for lampblack in the manufacture of ink. Another valuable employment for it is in "fining" foundry molds, to give the surfaces a smooth finish in preparation for castings.

Equal to It.

An American visiting this country had his attention drawn to the Nelson monument by the taxi driver. "Oh, that's nothing," said he, disparagingly; "we've got cabbages as big as that in the States." A little farther on they drove past a gasometer. "That's where we cook our cabbages," was the driver's sly comment.—London Daily Bits.

This is about 25 per cent lower than a year ago and practically back to the 1918 level.

Firewood
It is estimated that farmers burning wood have averaged 9 cords during the past year. The average value is estimated at $4.90 per cord in four foot lengths and $7.20 in stove lengths as compared with $5.80 and $8.80 last year.

DYNAMITE FOUND ON SECOND STREET PROBABLY DROPPED

This morning as Emmett Burhanon was coming up Second Street he noticed a stick of dynamite lying along the sidewalk immediately in front of the Presbyterian manse.

With visions of Bolsheviks, anarchists and other destructive vermin upmost in his mind, Emmett shied away from the death dealing instrument and with bulging eyeballs hopped up onto the front porch of the parsonage and excitedly notified Dr. Reeve that someone was going to blow him.

The Reverend gentleman started to duck toward the rear of the house at the wild alarm, but thinking better of it asked his excited visitor to show him the fellow who was going to do it. His visitor told the preacher he couldn't do that but could show him the instrument with which it could be done and taking Dr. Reeve to the front and pointed out the dynamite lying in front of the steps.

The innocent-looking stick was picked up, when it was seen no fuse or cap was attached to it and a hasty search made around the house for more, but finding no more it was decided that some careless fellow in passing last night dropped the dynamite from a package he was carrying.

The explosive was turned over to Officer Bill Leavy and through him found its way to a place on the editorial desk of this paper where it remains waiting an owner. Please come in and get it. We are as much afraid of the plagued stuff as Emmet Burhanon.

They Do Not Twinkle.

Stars do not really twinkle. They are immensely distant suns, and the light goes out from them as evenly and as steadily as light goes out from the sun that shines on the world, and the other planets of our small system. The light of these distant suns, which we call stars, does reach us in a twinkling or twinkling way, but the light, if it is a fault, is due to the atmosphere which surrounds the little orb on which we live.

MONEY RATE DOWN TO 1917 LEVELS

New York, N. Y., Jan. 6.—Money rates dropped to new low levels here today. Time loans were made at 4 3/4 percent for the first time since September 4, 1917, while call money dropped to 3 1/2 per cent. Extensive offerings of call money recently and the refusal of brokers to take offerings caused the break in the rate. Call rates were forced downwards by the plethora of money at the present time.

A REQUEST

Due to the limited space allotted for the selling of tickets at the Driggs Theatre there is always more or less of a jam for at least half an hour previous to the start of every show. This can be avoided with your co-operation.

There are hundreds of my best patrons who could buy their tickets as soon as the seat sale for any attraction opens but through procrastination, put it off until a few minutes previous to the opening of the performance. Then there is a jam at the ticket window.

The management of this theatre asks that folks who contemplate attending a performance and who reside in the city, reserve and call for their tickets just as soon as the seat sale opens, due notice of which is given in the advertisements for the various attractions. By doing this you may pass into the theatre via the left door as soon as you arrive and thus avoid the jam at the ticket window.

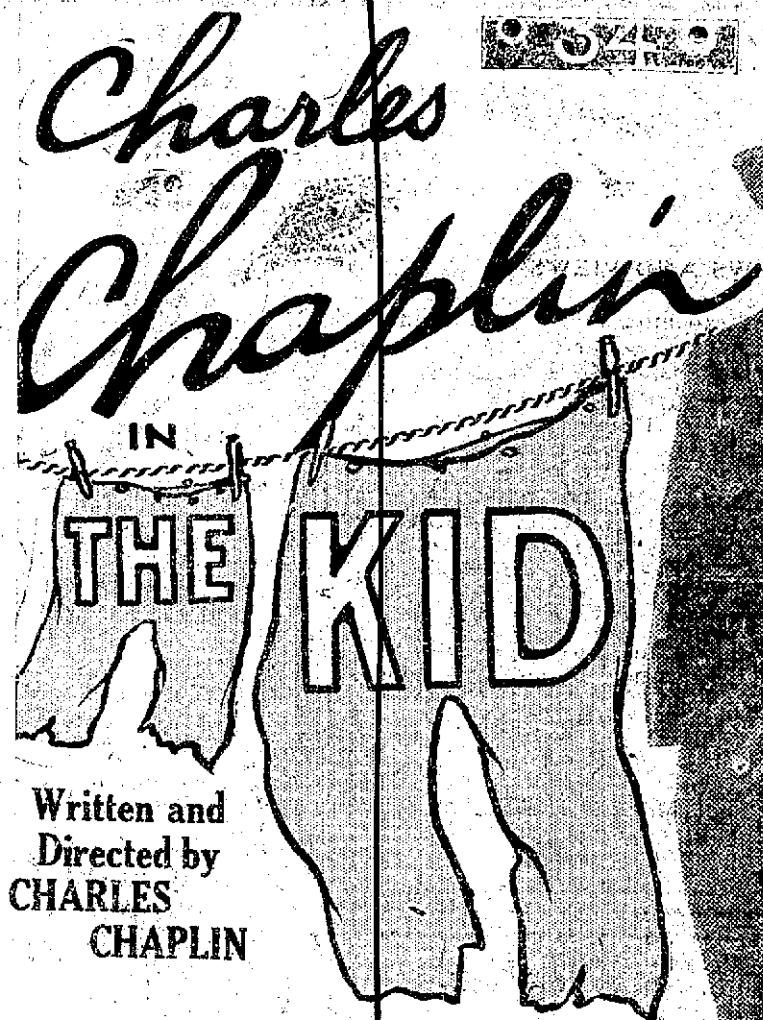

This is a little thing to do and the management asks that you do it for your own convenience and to aid others in getting their tickets just as quickly as possible.

For your information the seat sale for the opening attraction of the company headed by EDDIE RAYE is now on and you have all day tomorrow to come and get your tickets. Do it and avoid the jam at the window Monday evening.

I GIVE BARE-TO-HAIR TREATMENTS FOR HAIR GROWTH

This famous preparation for use on the scalp when your hair is falling out or when it has fallen out and a new growth is wanted is one of the best things that I have found for the purpose.

I will give your scalp treatments with Bare-to-Hair in the way it should be given and you'll find that before long your hair is looking better than it has since it started to fall out.

"DOINGS OF THE DUFFS"

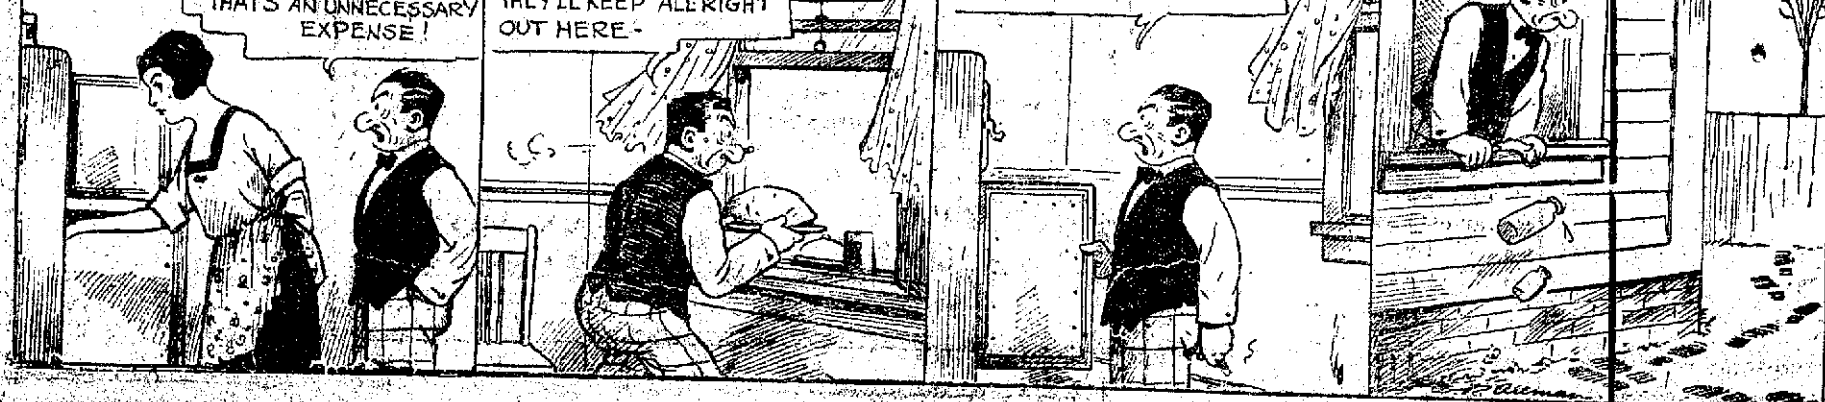

THE ICEMAN FORGOT US THIS MORNING AND I'M AFRAID THESE THINGS WILL SPOIL.

DO WE STILL TAKE ICE THIS KIND OF WEATHER? THAT'S AN UNNECESSARY EXPENSE!

WHY WORRY ABOUT KEEPING THESE THINGS WHEN YOU CAN PUT THEM RIGHT OUT HERE ON THE WINDOW SILL? AND YOU DON'T HAVE TO PAY FOR ICE—THEY'LL KEEP ALL RIGHT OUT HERE.

HELEN, SHALL I PUT THE MILK AND CREAM OUT THERE TOO? IT WILL KEEP LONGER!

SHOULD HAVE PUT THEM OUT THE ATTIC WINDOW!

THEY COME BACK

Every time we sell a new customer one of our Home-made Sandwiches, they most always COME BACK and say, "Give me another one like I got before." Others say, "I'd like to take some of those home with me."

If not acquainted with our Sandwich and Coffee Service try and come in soon.
